GRIMSHAW

The Grimshaw partners from New York, London and Melbourne are delighted to request your presence for the launch of our new journal, Blue.

Please join us for a celebratory toast and conversation, as we introduce the first edition, Water, Energy and Waste. An innovative response to issues of global concern, Blue closely examines food production, waste and water management, urban transport, and urban regeneration, allowing us to share the research and investigative work that is currently being explored by Grimshaw.
